Study in The Netherlands at the best young university!

Maastricht University

You want to study at a top university. You want a degree that is recognised across Europe and around the world, and you want skills and experiences that will prepare you for further studies or a successful career. At Maastricht University (UM) you will find all this and more!

International orientation

47% of our students and 40% of our staff is non-Dutch and they come from 108 different countries. The majority of our programmes have an international focus and are taught in English. We have academic and corporate partners all over the world, which gives you great opportunities to do an internship or study abroad. All this serves to broaden both your professional and personal horizons.

Innovative educational method

Problem-Based Learning (PBL) is the methodology UM is famous for. Small tutorial groups in which you analyse real life cases (maximum of 15 students), close contact with your tutors and a highly interactive style of learning. The skills you acquire via the PBL training are highly appreciated in today's job market, as you become an independent, assertive professional. Employers like UM graduates because they are trained in valuable, real-life skills: managing yourself and your (international) team, presenting your ideas, giving and receiving constructive criticism, meeting deadlines, producing concrete results, and taking responsibility, but also taking risks.
